Lent 5

March 14, 2027

Fifth Sunday in Lent (Year B)

A new covenant between God and his people came through Jesus Christ, who will reign as king and high priest forever. Jesus reminded his followers that to be a part of this new covenant is to be slave of all and servant of all, for the Son of Man came not to be served, but to be the one to serve others. His life, death, and resurrection are his "ransom" in exchange for the lives of his beloved children who believe.

This Week's Scripture Texts

First Lesson: Jeremiah 31:31-34 — A New Covenant

God declared that a new day was coming when he would make a new covenant with Israel and Judah, a covenant unlike the one made with the patriarchs of the faith and the slaves of Egypt. The first covenant was broken by a disobedient people who refused to obey God's law. This covenant will be written on the hearts of the people.

Psalm 119:9-16 — I Delight in Your Word

I delight in your statutes, said the psalmist. He vowed to meditate on God's ways and learn his statutes. He promised to seek the Lord with his whole heart and continue to abide in his commandments.

Second Lesson: Hebrews 5:1-10 — Our Great High Priest

Those who were appointed as high priests in Israel still had to make sin offerings for their own sins as well as for the sins of others in the community. Jesus, who was perfect, was designated by God as a high priest according to the order of Melchizedek — both king and priest. His offering was made through prayers and supplication while on earth. His final sacrifice of his life granted us eternal life.

Gospel Lesson: Mark 10:(32-34) 35-45 — Will You Do Something for Us?

As Jesus predicted his death a third time to his disciples, two disciples asked for places of honor once he was on the throne. "You have no idea what you are asking," Jesus responded to their request. They thought they could handle what was about to happen, but Jesus knew how ill prepared they actually were.

- What is the New Covenant that Jesus brought to God's people? How do we participate in that each Sunday?
